2 Gör Som Jag Vill has started his career by galloping in two starts. Has good speed and capacity though. Now driven by Ulf Ohlsson. Our pick. 4 Bazoo Can won in the debut after a good finish since the leader galloped on the home stretch. Can win again. 3 Ängsflora has a run under his belt and will be driven by Mats E Djuse this time. Opens fast and will get a nice run. Contender. 1 Lill Fredrik fought well in the first start. Dangerous with the right defensive journey.

6 Olly Håleryd comes from a splendid seasonal debut. Got a tough journey three wide during the final lap but won very comfortably. Barefoot now? Our winner. 7 Shehuntyoudown had to attack a little too early last time but followed well. Hopes to save the speed a bit longer now. Challenger. 4 Sommerbrise gave up after a run on the outside of the leader last time. Gets a defensive trip here. Can surprise. 2 Nan's Cash returns after a short break. Chases the lead. Outsider.

6 Sandsjöns Cantona was great when he won from the lead at the end of February. Has paused two months after that. Quick starter and our winner here. 5 Bullet The Bluesky beat the leader on the outside for an easy victory in the debut. Nice type. Contender again. 2 Rendezvous Zon is an exciting three-year-old in the Öystein Tjomsland stable. Looked nice in the qualifier. Outsider straight away. 3 Mr World Wide returns after a layoff. Barefoot back now? Possible.

7 Dominica Face galloped shortly after the start in the debut last time. However, came back well to a fifth spot and showed good speed. This starting method is probably an advantage. Our pick in an open race. 5 Last Chance challenged the leader from the outside last time but could not beat him. Better draw now. Will go for the front. Early contender. 8 XO Kemp did alright in the debut. Probably improved by that run. Can win. 2 Wakey Wakey makes an interesting debut. Will certainly get a nice trip here. Outsider straight away.
