RANK

1 Major Ass has been unlucky in the last two races. He does not like to attack from behind and prefers to run outside the leader. Will try everything to hold the lead here and steps down to an easier class. 8 Pour Mea Duoble is back on a mile track now and we expect a strong effort here, despite a long pause. 7 Dragster is good for this class too. 6 Pinto Bob is gifted, but has not raced for a while.

8 Eminent Kronos is promising but has not lived up to the capacity. Now the capable four-year-old is working really well and despite the long break and the seasonal debut, we expect a strong performance. 12 Tino Barosso competed in tough competition last year and is really good for this class. Interesting debut for a new trainer. 7 Moons Dinero likes both the distance and prefers to run in the lead. 6 Arees Manos is speedy but has not competed for a long time.

4 Gustav Simoni showed his high capacity most recently when he outclassed the competitors. He has high tops, can open fast and starts over an advantageous distance. Good chance! 2 I Am Don Max got a late break on the V75 last time and finished with strength to spare. Don't be afraid of heavy work. 5 Veyron Bros looked positive last time and is increasingly finding his way back to the nice form he showed last year. 7 Kovi Stream is used to victory and is switched up in equipment.

5 Place Royal got a tough start second last via the 1.08 first half lap and last time he never got into the match. Now it is back to the top and the two victories of the career on Swedish soil are saved over the short distance. 1 I Am Timmie has shown a great development and looks fine for the day. He has won in 5/6 from the front and is making an heat to hold up the inside track. 8 Mirasol is looking for quick revenge and she is also used to the mile course - fits! 3 Windmill Jam is very gifted.

RANK

7 Cassius Clay DE is used to winning and thrives over the long distance over which he has never been worse than third, in four heat. He has made quick money, but will wear it without much relish in races like this. 9 Dencos Galliano galloped snowily last time. He has never won before over a long distance, but the feeling is that the bank body should suit him and he is also perfectly in the race and is used to tough opposition. 6 Woogie Broline is capable and likes the long distance. 3 Canali is fast and can win the race.

6 Charlotte Grif has impressed and comes to her Sverige debut with three straight victories in her bag. She is fast out and will probably take the lead early, where it can carry all the way, despite her long break. 11 LaFerrari Dimanche is matched in much tougher company and holds good class for the race. She has previously shown strong sprinting qualities and should be seen with a good chance of challenging the tipsetta. 9 Organzza was responsible for a sharp sprint last time and showed good form. 5 Cascabella is to compete with snatchers for the first time - interesting!
