7 Nazare was really nice in the last race. Tricky lane behind the gate but he is a quick starter and should be considered early regardless. 4 Mattex only made his debut in June as a 4-year-old, but has shown good capacity. Has started behind the gate before and has shown such a high level that he should have a good chance here for Magnus A Djuse. First American bike now. 6 Lonely Nights has been clearly improved barefoot. Could be dangerous. First bike. 5 Ruffel has a run under his belt and will compete with the first bike.

11 Fine Manners has a very nice task here. Trained by Mattias Djuse and very good for this class. He should normally beat these opponents. A clear top chance regardless of the trip. 10 Ies General has a couple of runs under his belt after a layoff. Matched in good companies. Possible the favorite should make a break. 13 Conch On Inn is capable but has not been at his best for a while. Needs some racing luck. 2 King Of Crystal will find the lead.

8 En Garde is consistent and good. Really strong two starts back as second in a good time. Will be driven by Tomas Pettersson against and is our winner in an open race. 10 Vixi Garbo might have been our pick if it wasn't for this lane five in the circular. Risks a poor start, but he owns good strength. 4 Mellby Melon was good in the last race and has a run under his belt now after a six weeks break. 9 Nonstop Käll is possible too without a mistake.

7 Diamond Jackie has been heavily backed in all her starts. She has done well, even though she gave up from outside the leader last time. Should be better now and has a good chance. 8 Römossan has been clearly improved lately. Could reach a better position than the main rival from the start. Has to be considered. 10 Magna Cash has good capacity but can easily gallop. Possible without a mistake. 2 Ile de France makes her debut for a new trainer. Has the capacity to be in the mix.

11 Global Caps has done well in two straight starts after a long layoff and should be close to top form. Safety start and then he probably gets an offensive trip. Has high capacity for this race and is our pick. 10 Limoncello Boko is a bit special, but has the capacity and the speed to be in the mix. However, lane five is not optimal. 1 Mister Garrincha gets a trip in front and should not be overlooked from there. 7 Quintus Tooma is matched in good companies.

4 Ramiro Bo was last back on track after illness, but galloped. The four-year-old has good capacity and should be considered regardless of position. 3 PG Persson is very comfortable in the lead. Goes for the front and the horse will not be easy to beat from there. 6 Parish Crooks V.S. is very nice too. Hasn't raced for a while and his form is a question mark, but he is certainly working well and well prepared. 12 Lion's Roar sprinted fast to victory in the last race. Possible with the right trip.

9 Jobspost is by far the best horse in this race. He certainly gets an offensive journey and might be allowed to take over the lead after a while. From there the horse should have top chance. 2 Dexter Ors has not really impressed so far this year. Perfect draw and American bike now. 11 Nelson Greenwood sprinted fast over the home stretch last time and should be improved by that run under his belt. 7 Night Art comes from two good efforts and is in top form.

2 Basic Structure could reach the front here where he has run twice before and finished first and second. The horse runs barefoot and has not competed so before. Our pick here. 11 Mellby Mammon is very fast. In case of over-pace he can finish really fast. Good chance of winning. 10 Fly Express has very good strength and the right attitude. 3 Edvard Palema was really nice last time. Two runs under his belt should mean that he is close to top form .
