RACE 1, V4-1

Auto 1600

3 Gladiator won easily from the front in his seasonal debut and with the race under his belt, his form is likely to have improved even further. He will go for the front and has top chance again. 4 Geo got a perfect journey in the last run, but finished strongly and showed continued form. For those who are hesitant, this horse is a must-have on the V4 coupon. 6 Jack Baldwin is also in full form, and for those who don't want to pick a clear winner, this seven-year-old should also be included on the V4 coupon. 5 Zodiacale has returned from an injury and done well, but here he is mainly seen as a contender for a place finish.

Auto 2060

2 Giovanna is quick on her feet and is considered the favorite for the lead from a suitable position. If she can dictate the pace, she could go all the way to the finish line. 1 Hertz lost some ground from the back of the leading/winning Generalen in the last race, on a tricky surface. Speedy and early choice. 4 Go On A P hasn't won in a while, but with a slight improvement in form, there is undoubtedly enough speed to contend for victory. 7 La Francaise won stylishly after a perfect race in the last outing. She's possible here with a similar effort.

RACE 3, V4-3   Auto 2060

5 Hugo Boss Shadow won nicely ahead of Duiker two starts back. Sacrificed a lot to reach the lead last time and eventually gave up. 7 Aqua Photo N finished strongly to win last time and now has a race under his belt. A good contender with a similar performance. 6 Hoof Beats Newport hasn't started in a few months, so there may be some way to go before reaching top form. Early choice here. 3 Hella Bork didn't show anything special last time, but with a race under her belt she should be improving.

RACE 4, V4-4   Auto 2060

7 Here's Johnny started promisingly, but then performed poorly in two races. Now back after a break and expected to be fresh. 11 Hi Was The Night impressed us in the last race, despite finishing only in second place. Risky position, but still an early contender. 12 Hr Skov has got a poor number too and may need a little more luck on the way. But the speed is there to solve the task. 5 Fantastico has now had two races under his belt and his form seems to be improving. He is also an early pick.
