2 Önnes Eldner galloped last time. He finished the final lap in 1.27 and showed good form. He opened fast and with the same start it could mean the lead where he has taken two wins in three attempts. 13 Villnorsken makes his seasonal debut, but is reported to be well prepared. Strong and benefits from the distance. 14 Lundåsens Linus showed the right attitude in the last race. He can do it tough and stands the distance. 7 Monster Loke gets a new bridle and can reach the front from this lane.

10 Järvsö Josefín was good in a few starts last year. Is working well before this seasonal debut and she has a good chance of winning straight away. 4 L.Q.Tromb often gallops but was good in the lead two starts back and if he avoids a mistake he is an early choice. 7 Thule Bosse got locked in and was interfered to a mistake in the last race. Still looking nice and should be considered early. 5 Hagaz William starts tight which is positive and should be followed from a good lane.

2 Caradja made a nice comeback. The starting position is clearly better now as she normally prefers to run in front. The best would be the lead, but in this context she can also win this from first over. 1 Full Speed Forward is normally effective from the lead and should be considered early in that position. 5 Coin Master has the strength and toughness to be in the mix here. 7 Conrads Stefan is hard to predict, but owns good capacity.

8 Storma has put in several good performances. Even though this is her debut behind the gate, she will probably open fast and then have a good chance of reaching the front. In a mediocre race she will be difficult to beat. 5 Chicago News is stepping down in class and has good capacity for this type of race. Lane five is good and he can do it tough. 9 Edes Cocktail is making his seasonal debut, but in this poor race the four-year-old should still be considered straight away.

7 Majblomster was fourth in the Elitkampen last year and often faces tough opposition. She is now making her seasonal debut, but the stable is pleased. Overall a good chance of winning, regardless of the journey. 2 Holms Oden is the main challenger. He can do it tough and could find the lead after a bit, from where he has won five of eight starts. 4 Hulte Adam has two runs under his belt. He is both strong and fast and should be followed. 5 Gör Som Jag Vill has good capacity.

3 Alm Jerker put in a strong performance from the outside of the leader in the last race. With that run under his belt, the form should be on the way up, and now he competes barefoot! 7 Pellpers Mårten got locked in with energy left in the last race and is therefore in better shape than the results show. Goes for the lead. 11 Hög Decibel makes an interesting seasonal debut. Is talented and owns good capacity. 12 Östby Saga makes his debut for Jan-Olov Persson, which is of course always interesting.
