3 Do It Dorothy was not empty when she galloped 850 meter from the finish in the last race. The four-year-old is matched in tough companies and should lead this for a long while. 8 Zucchini C.D. has made quick money and is poorly drawn. Is in good shape though and on the way up and could be in the fight for victory again. 1 Kash Shadow is speedy and has been on the podium in nine out of 14 starts. From here she gets a perfect trip and has the chance of an open stretch. 9 Gosa Gosling was brilliant in the comeback and should be even better now with that run under the belt.

2 Nordic In started very promisingly as a 2-year-old and scored two wins in a row. Has not been as good this season but owns high capacity and this task is nice. 6 Who's Funky has been improved as a 4-year-old and has been strong every time. Is in top form and the Who's Who-son should be considered. 3 Knock Out Simon does well every time and is a typical outsider together with this good driver. 9 Twelve O'Clock has started well and has the advantage of a driver who knows the horse well.

Has a nice starting position and should be considered early. 3 Isaac Wynn has started well and shown that he likes to run in front. Early choice over these conditions. 8 Maroon has been good so far and is developing strongly.

7 Eminent Kronos is used to compete over much tougher conditions and won in the V75 two starts back. He certainly gets an offensive start despite this number. 1 Nyras Lars R. has good capacity but does not always live up to that. He was clearly improved last time and now he has finally got a suitable starting position. 5 Peach uses to finish fast if she can save the speed until the home stretch. 8 Global Bodyguard had not started since November 2023 but was still superior in the last race, which says a lot about his high capacity.

3 Danville showed great talent as a 3-year-old for the previous trainer. Has one run under his belt and he competes without shoes this time. Early choice. 5 Kiss My I.D. was good directly in the last seasonal debut and won in a very easy style. With that run under the belt, the five-year-old should be even better now. 11 Henessi Joy has been up and down but when he is at his best he is good enough to pass all opponents here. 13 Pop The Music looked on the way to victory when he galloped with 350 meter to go in the last race.
