1 Lovely Rita galloped into the final turn in the debut in an attempt to challenge the leader. Nice horse with a good draw here. Our pick. 8 Cashman JR is an exciting 3-year-old in the Roger Walmann stable. Was nice in the qualifier on Wednesday and Örjan Kihlström again. Challenger. 10 Jason Express is ready for the debut. The 3-year-old son to Readly Express is one of several contenders for victory, despite a back line draw. 4 License To Lead makes his debut for Fredrik Wallin. A bit tricky number but top driver in the sulky.

10 Tretiak is undefeated after four starts and a talent who has shown great capacity for the Mattias Djuse stable. Our pick despite back line draw. 1 Ready West has scored two good wins in a row after a break. Is fast from the start and tries to lead the race all around. Early contender. 9 Kudos Kazoo was early beaten and not at his best in the V75 on March 29th. Can do a lot better. Early choice. 8 Nigel Di Quattro won easily from the front last time. Possible despite this tough draw.

7 Global Fragrance has started her career with two straight wins and easily disappeared from the lead last time out. Is strong. Towards the front again. Wire to wire. 1 Great Pride got locked in last time and got a trip from far back. Looked nice over the home stretch behind horses though. Good draw and top driver. If the favorite fails. 3 Get Gas has been really good in two starts. Better starting number this time. Can win but needs some racing luck. 4 Dealer Face has good speed but is not reliable. Possible.

8 Decathlon makes a comeback after a six-month absence from competition. Did well in the V75 last summer and is certainly well prepared for this task. Our winner despite this number. 3 Dart Kronos had to open tough for the lead last time and followed really well. Testing for the front again. Erik Adielsson now. Early challenger. 2 Queen Of TheNight got locked in with some energy left in a heat to the Drottningpokalen last time. Barefoot again. Contender. 7 Go For Manny has been improved without shoes. Possible but needs some racing luck.

12 Erik The Phantom was second favorite behind Joviality in a heat to the Swedish Trotting Derby this summer. Much easier opposition in this comeback. Top chance if well prepared. 6 Localizer has looked increasingly better and is chasing a third straight victory. Can open fast. If the favorite fails. 4 Wille 's Shaman delivered a top sprint last time. Good when he avoids a mistake. Contender. 8 Conrads Palle returns after a short break. Tough draw, but good for this class. Possible with the right journey.

7 Southwind Boko sprinted well last time without having a real chance. Probably improved by that run. Dangerous with the right defensive journey until the home stretch. 8 Chestnut is ready for comeback after the winter break. Has good capacity for this race but needs quick pace. Has to be considered. 1 Jimbaran Zon came back really well after a mistake in the last comeback. Hard to predict from the start, but has enough speed. 5 Cabasse makes an interesting debut for Björn Goop. Was fourth in the Sprintermästaren for the former trainer.
