3 Sevemearas is very well-bred horse and started her career in the USA without a lot of success. She has since come to Daniel Redén's stable, where she has impressed so far. She likes the short distance and has a good chance from this lane. 1 Engine Kronos returned after a long layoff last time and was very nice. Very quick starter and is the likely leader of the race. Challenger. 12 Global Email is nice for this class, but poorly drawn. 10 Promise'em has a run under the belt. Possible with the right trip.

7 Secret Bo never got a real chance last time. He was outstanding before that and if he is back in that form he should have top chance here. 3 Chaconne C. is the main challenger with two wins in a row. Has met slightly easier opponents, but looked really nice. Should be followed. 4 Explorer Grue is making tight starts now. 1 Kick Off Nordic should not be discounted.

5 Oppgårdsträngen has been improved a lot this year and been consistent too. Has competed over short distance lately and done well, but he stands today's as well. Met the impossible Brenne Borken last time. 4 Ulvsåsen has three wins in a row since returning after a layoff. Tougher opposition now, but will be interesting to follow in the elite. 7 Järvsöodin returns after a long layoff. 6 Grislefaksen G.L. has not won for over a year.

3 Barn Ready is a horse with great capacity for this class. Galloped as a big favorite two starts back after a long layoff and the horse is still not completely reliable. Without a mistake, however, he should have top chance here. 6 Charlys Mine is doing well and has been matched in the V75. Has earlier done well for Per Linderoth. 1 Prop Line W. has been matched against tough opponents lately and gets a nice inside trip here. 4 Dropthegloves should have a good place chance.

3 Hå Lerke showed nice speed resources when she found the lead with 600 meter to go in the last race and won very easily. High chance of winning. 9 Hertiginnan Stöen won the Stokriteriet in both Sweden and Norway last year. Would probably have won her heat if she hadn't galloped on the home stretch. She is strong and tough. 4 Brenne Viktoria has been matched in good company and is a winner if things work out along the way. Couldn't beat Hå Lerke in the heat. 2 Hög Decibel finishes strongly in case of over-pace.

2 Heartbeat Thunder faces perfect conditions. The six-year-old is holding is good for this class and will compete with a closed bridle for the first time for this trainer. Should be considered early on. 1 Zaxton is a quick starter and a close favorite for the lead. Over the short distance he should have a good chance, either from the front or pocket. 4 Tamacti Jun faces tougher horses now. Opens fast and can do it tough too. 5 Grand Ready Cash was strong last time a bit behind the winner and is still in top form.
