9 Marjan Black won the tough way last time out and showed her ability. Starting from the second line over the short distance is risky, but she still has a good chance. 10 Maleiwa won two in a row in fine style and finished well to fourth last time out. She can't be overlooked here either and is a strong contender. 6 Damavend delivered a strong finish last time and deserves a new win. She has a chance to take the lead early on, but will be in contention regardless. 2 Zuma Lee hasn't raced in a while, making her form somewhat hard to predict. However, she has early speed and can be a factor based on her class.

5 Manual Flight hasn't started in a few months, but Lugauer is known for having his horses well prepared for their comeback. Good chance regardless the journey. 10 Conte Prad has had good performances without winning lately. With just a little luck from the back row, there's a chance. 4 Whothehillareyou finished strongly to an easy win last time out. Better position this time and a strong contender for the win again. 9 Global Action has shown good form lately, and with a bit of luck from the back row, he could be in contention for the win here.

5 Hank D.K. led from start to finish last time out despite starting from a handicap and he won easily. The conditions suit him well and he is a strong contender again. 8 Expelled has only won once in his nine starts, but that is partly due to tough competition. He's had a break from racing but could be in the mix directly here. 12 Hardcore D.K. has a tough draw and will need some help from his rivals to have a chance. It's possible, but not easy. 4 Florican Rold made a mistake from second on the outside 1300 meters from the finish at Charlottenlund last time out. He had a good finish in the race before that.

2 Mercury Boko is a horse that has been very successful lately, winning straight victories. Could find an early lead and has a great chance to win again. 4 Lazar Flevo is a tough competitor and a must-have behind the favorite. He was very impressive in his recent win from the front and is likely to challenge again. 7 Eagle Rock has been out of racing for a while, but is still a top contender here thanks to his speed. 1 Star Cash could reach the position behind Mercury Boko and if the horse finds room at the end, he has a chance to win this.
