Claiming - Class 3 - Flat - EUR € 19.000

1. ANGELINO - Recent form over in Germany is quite decent having won two starts back, he could have more to come even though he drops in trip. Each way chance

2. MIA BOY - Finished a fairly close up 5th last time out over 1900m and based on that he could be a lurker for the minor positions. Place chance

3. ANCTOT - Finished 16th last time out and on that it is very hard to have any confidence in his chances in this race. Hard to fancy

4. JULDIKO - Has had three runs to date and has shown nothing to work with so it's hard to see how he could run a better race. Would be a shock winner

5. HOOTTON - Has dropped in the ratings but needs to start showing something positive in order to gain more followers. Place chance at best

6. SACCARY - His only start locally saw him finish back in 5th position but he can start showing more. Has had a few runs in Listed company over in Germany. Respect his chances

7. DREAM FOR ALL - Showed some positive signs last time out over 1400m when running 2nd but meets a slightly stronger field and will need to confirm. Others preferred

8. YELLOWBLUE - Finished 10th over 1950m last time out and it's difficult to see that changing in a race where there is form. Hard to recommend

9. COSMAS - Bounced back to some of his better form when finishing 2nd last time out but he will need to confirm that effort here. Place chance

10. VALYRIAN STEEL - Debut run in France yielded in a victory over 1800m and that could be a sign of what is to come from him. Big chance

Summary : VALYRIAN STEEL (10) won a nice race last time out and he looks to have quite a bit up his sleeve so there could well be a bright future for him. SACCARY (6) could run a big race taking on weaker company and shouldn't be discounted. ANGELINO (1) has the right type of form to be ultra competitive in a race of this nature. MIA BOY (2) can build on his most recent effort to get involved.

TUDO BEM (1) brings the right credentials into this and should be a serious threat for top honors. CHIRIMIRI (7) is another that can't be discounted as he is running well and could get it right. IMPITOYABLE (3) is a hard knocking sort that would be deserving of another victory.
