On the way up. 2 Candle in the Wind held well as third two starts back but galloped straight away in the last race. Possible without a mistake. 7 L.H. 6 Goroso Sjaman is our winner in this race with inexperienced cold-bloods. Galloped under attack in his debut last time but showed superior speed. Without a mistake we think he has a top chance here. 2 Kom Konge was quite heavily backed in the debut but galloped and finished sixth. Chases revenge. 7 Tangen Rigel is obviously hard to predict in his debut but is possible too here. 1 Nordby Eng is probably not a superstar but he should not be overlooked from this lane.

10 Will Best won from the outside of the leader in his debut and did well. Tough handicap now but meets fairly easy opposition. 4 Sundby Seira has good speed but is unfortunately not reliable at all. If he stays on his feet he should be considered early. 9 Kolbu Sjarmör'n comes from a second place and was improved. Possible behind the favorite. 2 Linde Ludvig was third behind the latter horse but has a 20 meter advantage now. That could be enough.

Took his first win in the 16th race last time and has shown good form of late. 9 Legolas has been very consistent and good towards the end and hopes for pace from here. In that case, he has to be considered early here. 3 Kjärs Fryd made a break in the last race but won easily two starts back. Should not be overlooked with a similar performance here.

8 Proper Energy got an offensive trip in the last race and was superior from the lead. He put in a very strong effort and should have top chance. 4 Gambino has done well at the end and deserves a win. He has a much better lane than our favorite. 9 Vincent Sun earned the most money last year and got locked in last time out. He scored a good win at Bjerke in the beginning of the season. 12 Riverside Princess was fourth against better opposition in the last race. Is quite gifted and should not be overlooked despite this poor lane.
