RANK

7 Global Graffiti scored a brilliant third place in a good time in the last race. Has had a layoff after that but has shown the best skills so far. 6 Floki makes his debut for Claes Sjöström. Qualified in August, but has had a pause since then. Nice conditions here and this trainer uses to have his horses well prepared. 10 Hadahaa came back well after a gallop in the last race. Conrad Lugauer's horse should be considered early. 9 Chiraz showed the right attitude in the debut.

2 Fusion Blaze scored a good win in the debut after a tough journey on the outside of the leader during the final lap. Should have moved forward by that run under his belt. Early choice here. 5 Tahia Håleryd won in her debut. This lane is not optimal, but if the mare reaches a nice position, she could challenge. 3 Perky Westwood showed good speed as a 2-year-old and is interesting in the debut for new trainer. 1 Grove's Poppy Poof did well as a 2-year-old. Makes his seasonal debut here.

5 My Creation is not entirely reliable but owns great strength. Without a mistake Katja Mellko's trotter is the horse to beat in this small field. 6 Time To Run was consistent last year. Opens fast and shows nice speed. 2 Jacqueline Zet makes her seasonal debut and may need this run under her belt. American bike for the first time. 4 Molly Jo Poof did well last season and qualified to the Breeders Crown final.

5 Kingen J.A.B. has impressed so far in his career. His first loss came in the final start of last year, where he couldn't match a competitor who finished really fast. Robert Dunder's horse looks to be something extraordinary. 6 Neutron Star is the main challenger. He has also been fantastic, including a second spot in the Svensk Uppfödningsslöpnig. 2 Cay has done well for Kevin Oscarsson. 3 Tennessee H.C. needs to show more.

5 You Bow To No One really impressed in the seasonal debut as he won by a good margin. Could take the lead this time too and then he will be hard to beat. 6 Dive Bar Hanover is a nice American horse who is making his debut for Daniel Redén. Will be interesting to follow during the season and is the main rival in terms of capacity, but may lack speed and a run under his belt. 4 Urban Profile is a place bet. 2 Fantastic Hall is in good shape too.

3 High On Pepper is doing very well. Owns great strength and should have a good chance of winning this race. 1 Kentucky River did really well last year and is making an interesting seasonal debut. Early challenger. 5 Bengan could find the lead here. In that position he should not be discounted. 6 Joe Dalton has nice speed resources, but needs to reach a good position first.

2 Snickup is developing strongly. Showed very nice pace to score the last win and is our pick from a perfect starting position . 3 Little Tony is undefeated without a mistake, which is of course awesome. Can do it tough and is an early contender. 5 Sacrebleu won nicely in the last race. Barefoot behind and Björn Goop now is exciting. 4 Over The Limit is not a superstar, but a couple of equipment changes could mean an improved performance.

RANK

1 Leglign has been a bit up and down but the best level is very high. He put in a strong performance in the last race and looks set for the front here. Top chance. 3 Fuliggine Pal has shown very good form for a long time without winning. Nice conditions here and the mare is the main challenger. 6 Orion is in good shape and will be in the fight regardless of position. 5 Great Old Dance has good capacity but is not completely reliable. Should not be discounted.

5 Leandro Wibb faces significantly more experienced mares, but he is very talented. Unbeaten without a mistake and if he reaches the front, he should have top chance. However, he has to be considered regardless of position in this seasonal debut. 1 Bohemian Maid has been consistent and good. Opens quite fast and should be in the fight for victory. 4 Global Good Girl finishes fast with the right trip. 7 Cruising Altitude is tough and strong. Has a run under his belt. Early contender.
