5 Bengt has two runs under his belt after a long layoff. Is a winning machine and should be approaching top form and is well drawn behind the gate. Good chance. 7 Ike Zet is really good for this class and will compete with an American bike for the first time. Has to be considered early. 3 Top Dog won nicely in the last race. Tougher opponents now, but will compete barefoot now. 2 Moore is matched in good company and is now driven by Magnus A Djuse. From a good lane he could cause an upset.

11 Hihi started his career in a strong way when he lived up to the high expectations as a big favorite. Met easy opponents but looked really nice.. Top chance despite this number. 1 Hawk Eyed Girl is the main challenger, but Conrad Lugauer's horse has mostly galloped so far. She won when she avoided a mistake. 2 Che Carina is extremely well-bred and interesting that Stefan Melander now chooses to drive the horse himself. 10 Global Flash has a run under his belt after a long absence. Barefoot behind now should be a plus.

7 Hyannis Port is strong in every way. Finished second behind Luckisanattitude last time despite a disappointing lane. Has nice strength and should be considered. 3 Norris does well most of the time. Was not at his best in the late winter and spring, but now looks to have found fine form again. Is versatile and an early contender here. 4 Indigo Brick is gifted and possible too here. Needs some racing luck though. 5 Quinan Tooma is matched in good company and won in a slightly easier field in the last race. Sprints well in case of over-pace.

1 Mattex has shown the highest capacity so far. Has been really strong and from a perfect starting position he should normally have top chance to find the lead and once in that position he will win this. 3 Orion is the main challenger. Has made two starts for Daniel Redén and will now run barefoot. Owns good capacity but has been a bit tricky so far. 2 Kipling Sautreuil took his first career win in the last start. Is not a superstar, but he is in good form. 6 Rajdon Time faces a tough handicap but could be a place bet here.

6 Buddy Topline lost as a big favorite in the last race, but the Arvika track is special. The horse has good skills and is the second favorite to reach the front. Regardless of position he should be considered. 5 Whoops Hanover has good capacity in general, but has not shown it for a while. Had some energy left over the finish last time. Magnus A Djuse now and an American bike. Early contender. 2 Leonardo Silvåkra is a quick starter and has a good chance of taking the lead. Once in that position he will not be easy to pass, even though the opposition is tougher now. 9 Rolyman has done alright and starts behind a quick horse. Possible in case of over-pace.

1 Appia Express has not convinced in the last two starts in Sweden, but the conditions are ideal here. The horse runs barefoot and with an American bike and will be driven by Magnus A Djuse. Good chance over these conditions. 10 Fuliggine Pal is the main challenger. The four-year-old has done well lately without winning. Can finish fast with the right journey from behind. 11 Kyrkebys Arli has three runs under his belt after a layoff and should be close to top form. Early contender despite this number. 6 Mare Mareh has been matched against tough opponents lately and is now going down a bit in class. Does not win very often but is possible here with the right trip.
