RANK

9 Clean Table has looked brilliant in two appearances for the Untersteiner stable. Tricky lane over the short distance, but faces quite easy opposition and should normally have top chance. 3 Champagne For Me was met too good horses in the last V85 race but did well from the lead the previous time. Early contender from the front. 8 Keepthesugarcoming has shown good form for a long time but needs a bit of luck from this lane eight. 4 Fallsfromthefalls likes the short distance and should be on the way up with the last run under his belt.

RANK

1 Polly Vici has very good capacity for this class, but is not entirely reliable considering that she galloped in tow out of four races. The inside track could be a trap, but if she finds her way out, the chance of winning is good. 7 Kjelling was brilliant from the outside of the leader in the last race and showed good form, strength and the right attitude. Early contender with a similar performance. 2 Leonard Cohen could not challenge Kjelling in the last race but was clearly improved compared to his previous performances. 5 Just Joking has shown a lot of speed but is not reliable at all.

RANK

6 Mister Kabuki has shown great winter form over tough conditions towards the end. The six-year-old is a bit down in class here. Not sure if he can find the lead, but he has previously shown that he can do it tough over the short distance. 8 Ever So Much makes his debut for a new trainer here. An interesting start to say the least. 1 Nash Keeper is in good shape and can finish really strongly. 5 Laban Lagö is the likely leader of the race and can lead all the way.

9 VästerboRoyalFlash has been improved a lot since he came to Christoffer Eriksson. In five starts the five-year-old has scored three wins. Good for this class and Viktor Brodin is gifted for this amateur race. Our winner. 10 Devs D.Rex is hard to predict but has previously won directly after a break. 8 Kardashian is good for this company but has not started since last summer. 7 Spring Wow has shown good form and has been a good second behind promising Fetisov at the end.

RANK

5 Baron D.Sox is capable when he avoids a mistake and he has a very suitable task. The six-year-old has met really good horses, including A Fair Day. Top chance without a mistake. 6 Västerbo M.A.S.H. finished well in the last Bronze Division race. Nice conditions and fine form. With the right journey, he is fast over the home stretch. 9 Lucifer Sam is up and down and does not win very often. Possible if the favorite fails. 7 Dareios Di Poggio uses to keep up the pace well.

2 Louis Vuitton has been strong towards the end and finished nicely over the short distance behind winning Steady King in the last race. Easier now and faces nice conditions. We expect the five-year-old to resume the winning streak. 4 Free Day scored a convincing win in the V85 last time. Has been a scratch afterwards, but should still be in fine form. 6 Don Quijote Face has a top level that many horses in this field cannot match. 3 Harald Derm is in good form and should not be overlooked if he finds his way to the front.
