1 Kopper Dust is a quick starter and should have a good chance of holding the lead and from there he will not be easy to reach. 5 Greenday Tir showed good form in the last race when he was able to sprint to an easy win after a perfect trip. Will challenge for the win if he can save his speed until the final half lap. 6 Houston Spring finished well in the last race. Early contender in case of quick pace. 3 Major Love has the right attitude and will be in the mix if he is at his best.
