6 Mando Gowan should be close to top form with two runs under his belt after heavy winter training. The five-year-old comes from a strong last season and developed well. Owns good strength but has not impressed over this distance. 1 Sir Alex did not show anything special in a tough stayer race last time. On the way up and has improved with ear plugs and will possibly run barefoot. 9 Viking Lane is clearly the most distance-favored in this field with wins in six out of twelve starts over 2640 meter. 4 Arctic Dominant has the capacity to be in the mix too.

However, the Captain Corey offspring has shown good capacity and is improving with each start. 5 Quinting has been improved a lot at the end and put in several nice finishes. 1 Super Sonic has an interesting starting position and will compete barefoot in the seasonal debut.

6 Pearl Silvio won in convincing style from the lead and finished with plenty of energy left in the last race. Despite this handicap, she should be able to fight for victory with this experienced driver . 1 Girlpower W.F. got a nice trip in the last race and won very easily. Good form and she could lead this throughout. 11 One Chance More is used to much tougher company and is dropping down a lot in class. Passes many horses at the end. 2 Speedy Path M.G. did the job for Girlpower W.F. in the last race. Good form and can win this race, but is mainly a place bet.

Has good capacity for this class and this short distance feels like a clear advantage for the four-year-old who is used to tougher opponents. 2 Glory Forever is getting better with each race and faces interesting conditions. Good reports and Djuse now! 4 Ida Godiva was tested in the V85 last time but galloped. This distance is a plus and the stable is in good form.
