RANK

4 Jerven Junior has taken seven wins this year and earned the most money. Has had a qualifier after his last start and seems well prepared. Can take the lead. Good chance regardless. 3 Kleppe Nido won as a big favorite in the last race. He will face a bit tougher horses this time but should be considered early. 5 Vital Vinter comes from a sixth place against tougher opposition and could at least be a place bet here. 1 Aner Ikke is not bad at all but the 13-year-old hasn't raced since February and probably needs this race. Good lane.

7 G.K.Dobzon has done well under the saddle and taken two wins and a second place. Has a double handicap but this small field is a big advantage. Good chance. 5 Ossie Artist was second behind our pick in October and has also done well in this discipline. Returns after a short layoff but should be considered early on. 4 Dea Orientis W.H. won easily under saddle two starts back and has a 20 meter lead over our top duo. Early choice. 2 Mon Amour is an experienced horse under the saddle and has been consistent and good at the end without winning.

4 Filly's Domestros has started well with one win and a second place in three starts. She faces very modest opposition here and should have a good chance again. 6 Jane Doe has three second places in ten starts. Comes from a good fourth place and could be on the way up. Hasn't won yet but in this field she is possible. 7 Never Too Late has one third spot in eight starts. Was sixth in the last race and should be improved by that run under his belt. 1 Nice Decoy has not scored a place yet after six starts but comes with quite good efforts. Nice lane.

7 Jerkeld Odina took her first win of the year last time after several good efforts against better horses. We think today's short distance is an advantage for the five-year-old filly. 3 Rokke Töffa has actually beaten our pick on several occasions recently and can certainly do so again. Early choice. 4 Månin Lilja has had a good season and is better than the latest results show. Early contender behind our top duo. 6 Pålly Tulla has not won for a long time but has been good this year and comes from two third places in a row. Outsider.

2 Resilient Reddington was fourth from the lead in the last race but should be improved by that run under his belt. Can open fast and has an excellent draw. 3 Explosive Axe comes from Alessandro Gocciadoro and makes his debut here for Kristian Malmin. He will face easier horses this time and should be considered early in this field. 8 Icarus B.R. is poorly drawn but sprinted to victory two starts back. Hopes for quick pace and is possible in this field. 5 U.N. Lando has taken four wins this year and is quite consistent. Hopes for high pace and should not be overlooked either.

2 Master Noark took two good wins in a row in November. Today's short distance is an advantage. Good draw and could reach the front. 1 Victorys Maximus comes from a good third place and is ideally drawn. Could reach the back of our pick and could be dangerous at the end. 5 A.K.S. Liona has taken four wins this year and earned most money. She has been very consistent and good towards the end and should be considered early here. 3 Mack Joe is consistent and good and he also has a nice lane. He is possible too in this company.
