3 Licorice Sisu started with two straight wins from the lead. The horse was really good last time but got defeated anyway after a quick finish. Wire to wire? 1 Mellby Maybe has also started promisingly but in a slightly easier company. Barefoot again now is an advantage. 5 Falcon showed 13/1800 meter after the last gallop and is good but not reliable. 4 Laststarinheaven is well-bred and on the way up. Finished really fast last time.

2 Ramstad Kristian is very speedy and has shown that on Swedish soil on several occasions. However, he gave up from the lead last time and didn't convince. Very fast and a top chance if he shows the right attitude. 7 Brageson is also up and down these days but very fast and loves the short distance. His last win was impressive and he faces quite easy opponents now. 3 Snyggs Rubin took part in a speed race and is really fast - did alright in the last race. 4 Ros Borken won even a heat in the aforementioned speed race.

8 Diamant De Treabat is good and if he is as good as two starts back when he outclassed elite horses under the saddle finishing 10/700, he will be very hard to beat. However, the form is hard to predict. 2 Magical Time was really nice under the saddle last time out during the Jarlsberg weekend when he easily passed some pretty good horses. Lead this for a long time? 7 Certainly makes his debut for his new and former trainer. Has good skills. 6 Flexible Launcher has had some problems this early summer but owns good speed.

9 Admiral As is a great horse when he is at his best, but he is coming off two consecutive gallop failures and a long break. However, the reports are very good - he wins very often. 8 Millmighty is very capable but comes back after a serious injury. Is working well but gets a defensive trip. 10 Power Doc is a sharp finisher who also benefits from this small field but he has been ill since the last race. 3 Perfect Zon is gifted and leads this for a long time.

7 Lionel Mearas has won two V75 races in a short time and in the final between them he never got a real chance at the end. Easy victory from the front in the last race and a good task now. 5 Automatic Flight made a mistake from the start in the final last time but was nice from the front in the V75 before that. Goes for the lead. 4 Lizmark is quite capable for a race like this and owns good strength. Got a trip from outside the leader last time. 6 Global Fighter scored a shared victory with 9 Mr Spain two starts back and both are good horses.

6 Sir Alex has taken his last two wins from the lead and prefers to run there. He reached that position in the middle of the race last time and a similar scenario is not impossible here. Good chance. 11 Tyson Renegade is much better than the latest results show. He won the Lilla Harpers in a classy manner last year and has shown good speed for the new trainer. 8 Thai Face Time was nice in the beginning of May and is good enough to be in the mix. 4 Queen Gold has good speed but needs to avoid a mistake first. Interesting changes now.
