5 Express Go is a really nice horse. Has her own unique style with her head low and the attitude is fantastic. With a perfect starting position she should have an excellent chance of leading and once in that position she will be extremely difficult to beat. 10 Bringmewine has started the career well and is a contender too with the right journey. 12 Good Gal is one of the better horses but this starting position is anything but optimal. 8 Beth Dutton has a tricky number too, but owns good capacity.

3 Seaside Fun has done well in the early starts of his career. The Gundersen family always have their horses well prepared and from a good starting position he has a good chance of finding a better position than the main rival. Our pick. 1 X.O. has done very well and shown the right attitude. The question mark is where he ends up from the start. The capacity is good enough. 11 Evan Pepper is matched in good companies and can do it tough. 8 A Perfect Match could reach a good position despite this number.

6 Goroso Sjaman was one of the better horses of his year, but has not started for a long time now. However, he faces nice conditions here and it is clear that he is a horse with enough speed to win, it is mostly about whether the form is there right away. 4 Silke Odin was matched in good company last time and is going down a bit in class this time. Contender. 9 Alm Nordstjernen is used to win and has to be considered despite this 20 meter handicap. 5 Lykkje Laila meets stallions and geldings here. Possible.
