5 Highland Obsession performed just below 70 in form the only time out last year and has since then run a qualifier. Our pick. 8 Skyraider faces a nice task and should be a serious challenger if well prepared for the seasonal debut. 4 Titanium Carlas is well placed in the race with a rating of 64 and this gifted apprentice claims two kilo off. Possible contender. 6 Jungle Dream rounded off the winter meeting with a fine second place in a Bronze Handicap over this 1600 dt. An outsider.

3 Running Rolf scored an impressive win in the Mischa Kahn Memorial Race last year when he countered Chianti with a nose. A top pick. 4 Wildfire is coming off a good season last year which included a win in the Jockey Club Handicap over these conditions. 5 Saigon likes this distance, but she prefers turf. Still, a strong contender on her day. 6 Dust Devil is often in the mix and won three consecutive races over the current distance as a four-year-old. A potential winner with this apprentice jockey.

2 WhoopiLoo has met quite tough company and done alright. Our pick in this open maiden race. 1 Muscle Shoals boasts the highest form rating in this maiden race, but also seems to prefer to race on turf. Still worth considering. 6 Promised Land put in a couple of decent performances as a two-year-old and is equipped with side blinkers for her seasonal debut. Not out of it. 8 Passion didn't look bad at all in the qualifier and is one out of many outsiders in this open race.

5 Day Trader has scored three impressive victories in the front. Is still on the way up and our pick despite tougher opponents. 3 April Song didn't perform well in the last outing over today's 2100 dt, but scored a couple of strong wins last year over 2350 dt. Possible contender in case of fast pace. 7 Heshmah is strong and today's conditions certainly suit the horse well. A possible challenger. 6 Ruby Carlas showed some decent performances as a three-year-old and won over today's conditions. In the mix for a place.
