3 Kiwi Sisu took the lead in the last race and won very comfortably. The five-year-old has been in that position five times and won three of them. The horse to beat from the front. 7 Speed Matters has won ten out of 29 races. Is in good shape and will be driven by Ulf Ohlsson for the first time. 1 Franklin Zet has good capacity and should be considered early from a nice starting position. 8 Ove Palema has impressed under the saddle during the summer, but is also a good sulky horse. Should not be overlooked.

12 Guenerina met too tough opponents in the spring. This will be the first start for Sandra Eriksson and she could win straight away. 4 Chrissies Symphony is gifted and should be seen as the biggest threat to our pick. 3 Emotional gave up in the comeback. Better with that run under her belt and leads the race for a long time. 9 Explosive Girl should be able to open well from this starting position. Is fast when she can save her speed and should not be underestimated.

1 Seven Mounds took his first win in the last race. This is his debut directly behind the gate, but if he only gets it right he should have the best chance to win the race. 4 Knockout Pepper won straight away in the comeback two races ago and if he can reach the same level he will definitely be a contender. 5 Ynnest Lloyd got a tough journey in the last race. Better with that run under his belt and should be considered. 8 Backwoods Ferguson did not convince last time but can do better than that. Should not be overlooked.

11 Sjöli Morten has faced good opposition towards the end, but has also put in nice performances. The six-year-old deserves a victory and is our pick here. 5 Lia Lykke has done well this year. A bit tougher horses now but should still have quite a good chance. 8 Teknolina is consistent and with the right journey and pace she has to be considered. 3 Lia Stubin galloped in her comeback in the last race. Has good speed but she needs to avoid a mistake first to be in the mix.

RANK

11 J.M.'s Caviar has been matched in tough V75 races during the summer. Now the five-year-old is moving down in class and should have a good chance of winning despite a tricky starting position. 6 Von Lloyd owns great speed but is also a bit tricky. If Mika Forss manages to avoid a mistake, the horse is good enough to win. 10 Rusty Cage won easily in the last race as the main rival galloped in the final turn. Benefits from high pace and has to be considered. 7 Global Dream Trip should be considered with the right journey.
