7 Fahrenheit is in great shape and has been improved a lot lately. The five-year-old is fast and strong and comes from a V85 victory. Easier now - Top chance! 2 Michigan Bro was good in his comeback and will be interesting to follow. Certainly better now and early choice. 1 He's From Heaven stands all distances but prefers the short one where five of seven career wins have been taken. 3 Judge D is capable for this class.

RANK

8 T.Rex Tiger has shown by far the best speed in this field but is now returning after a longer layoff. The form is hard to predict but he uses to do well after a pause. Nice task if the six-year-old is well prepared.

4 Timotejs Gamble is not entirely reliable, especially from the start, which is why lane four is not optimal. Early choice without a mistake.

5 Freeman Dance looked improved in the last race but got locked in.

1 Elevation is fast from the start and is driven by Magnus A Djuse for the first time.

RANK

8 Eldorado Spritz was heavily backed in the last V85 race but galloped right from the start. The six-year-old faces easier opponents now. Is experienced and tough and our pick here. 2 Frog Di Girifalco has shown great speed and is on the way up. 4 Hot Blaze comes from a couple of fine results and is in good form. 11 Infinity Of Joy has got a run under the belt and should be better now.

RANK

9 Kahbean did well in last comeback and looked brilliant with plenty of energy left from behind the leader. With that run under her belt, the form should have improved a lot. Faces quite easy opposition and she has a good chance of winning without a mistake. 3 Cab Mystery has been a bit slow so far, but the last impression was clearly improved. Is a contender for the lead and this short distance is probably a big plus. Driven by Claes Sjöström. 10 Five Victory has had a training period and could be on the way up with the last run under the belt. 6 M.T.Uxor has shown good speed for this context.

6 Four White E.G. is stepping down a lot in class. This short distance is an advantage and although we are not sure if he finds the lead, he is good enough to do it tough. 2 Specification was positive as third in the V85 two starts back. Owns good starting speed and he has a strong record over the short distance. 1 Expensive Jewel scored a convincing win two races ago. Fast from the start and this distance is an advantage. 4 Sanoroc News finished strongly after a six-month absence last time.

RANK

2 Cold Blaze is a new promise from Mattias Djuse who is just lining up wins like Winterburn and Ogden Boko which he has previously picked up. The newly-made four-year-old is improving with every start and has shown exactly the right attitude. 3 Florenz G has impressed, as has the our pick. With wins in 8/10 starts he is in a class too low for his capacity. The speed resources are enormous and if Tietz plays his cards right, he can lead all the way. 4 One Big Bang has his best part in the end and will benefit if the pace is high. 6 Humble Malt is better than the line suggests.
