7 Rockstile R. made a really good seasonal debut even if he scored only a fourth prize. The five-year-old has probably progressed somewhat with that race and should be seen with the best chance of winning in an otherwise open race. 5 Hera BR sprinted quite well last time, although it was not enough for a place in the mix. The mare has recharged the batteries for a few weeks and is one of several who can challenge the favorite. 8 Mangas Coloradas hasn't started for a long time, but has the capacity to be in the mix. 1 Handy Mandy can do better than last time and will now run barefoot which is interesting.

9 Petite Papillon finished strongly last time for a second prize. The four-year-old had two straight wins before that and should have good chances to to beat these opponents despite this lane. 2 Lovely Touch won directly in the seasonal debut and even though it was in an easier race, the impression was good. Has a nice starting lane and is the one who challenges in the first place. 7 Royal Tile is fast from the start and if he could get to the front, he leads the race for a long time. 1 Vivacious Bonanza came back well after galloping last time. Is well drawn and can surprise.

9 Kerwin Pasel made a big mistake last time, but went well after that. The seven-year-old is not completely reliable, but if he does not gallop, he is good enough to win this type of race. 8 Mr. Fax followed nicely last time. This lane is not the best, but as the opposition is quite mediocre, the Order By Fax-son can be the winner of the race. 5 Kluivert Boko has now three runs under his belt and is starting to approach form. Should not be overlooked and is one of the hotter bids for victory. 6 Love It is very good every now and then. Barefoot now is an advantage.

4 Almond Paste is coming back after a competitive break and there are of course question marks about his form, but the nine-year-old has good capacity for the race and should be seen with the best chance of winning even if this is a seasonal debut. 6 Dreamliner is also coming back after a longer break, but he too should be seen with possibilities for a place in the mix. 8 Easy Winner got locked in with energy left last time. Good form and should be counted despite this starting lane. 7 Likeawalkinthepark is not that bad and has to be counted if he reaches a nice position.
