1 Prince Of Euro is an interesting debutant. Per Nordström usually has his horses well prepared. This is the first Önas Prince offspring to start and he certainly wants to set an example. Perfect lane and the horse to beat. 4 Montana Sky is well-bed and was good in the qualifier. Early challenger. 2 Tamborine galloped in the debut but came back nicely to a third place. With that run under her belt she has to be considered. 3 Casino Garde will find it hard to win this.

He is facing tougher opponents now, but this looks like a nice task anyway for the Gundersen family's trotter. 5 R.K.Pascal has not been completely reliable at the beginning of his career but he has shown good speed and should not be forgotten if he avoids a mistake. 4 Don Gaagaa was not at his best last time. Better now? 9 Popup Pellini is very well-bred. Has not raced for a while and meets stallions and geldings, but should not be discounted.

1 Kevin Jaam has done really well for the new trainer under the saddle. Nice conditions here and even though there are a couple of serious competitors from the 20 meter handicap, this task looks nice. 14 Peanut makes a very interesting ridden debut here. Carré is always exciting. 6 Jet Cocktail is gifted, but not easy. 9 Intrigante is good in bright moments, but a bit up and down.
