7 Kingsman has always shown high capacity, but perhaps has been at his best under the saddle. He faces tougher competitors all the time, but he has impressed and should have a good chance here too. 11 Slave To Love Cal is matched in quite good company and likes to race during the winter. Making his second start under the saddle, but he did not impress in the first race. 5 Oris has done well in two ridden races and is possible behind the favorite. 3 First To Fight is strong.

6 Klang Shadow has shown the best speed and capacity so far, but he is anything but reliable. If the horse avoids a mistake, he is the likely winner of this race and the fact that he is coming back after a break now could be an advantage. Early choice. 5 Coraline has been really consistent and good so far in her career. She is coming more and more and an early contender here. 2 Love You Quick is an early choice in the first circle. 8 Reigo Tooma scored a nice victory in December.

5 Brionne has galloped in five of seven starts, which is of course worrying. However, the capacity is definitely good for this class and if Katja Melkko's trotter just avoids a mistake, she will be hard to beat in a race like this. Quick starter and can take the lead. 11 Lafayette is not reliable either but has good speed. Possible but needs some racing luck. 8 Catalaia sprinted brilliantly in the last race. Poor lane but still an early choice. 1 Miss Countess is not reliable, but has good capacity.

10 Great Ruler is capable. Galloped in the comeback after a layoff, but quickly got his revenge by winning the last race. Even though the opposition was weak, the most important thing was to see that the horse was fully functional. Good chance without a mistake. 9 Luck Is For Losers is matched in good company and an early contender despite this tricky lane. 11 Hankypanky Slander uses to sprint fast but needs some racing luck. 7 Perfect Steel can reach the front.

11 Celiáz won despite a tough journey in his seasonal debut. He should be improved by that run under his belt and the horse has shown time and time again that he owns great strength. Regardless of the journey, Alessandro Gocciadoro's trotter should have top chance. 12 Don't Say Gar comes in top form, but the starting position is of course not optimal. Possible but needs some racing luck. 4 Jane Hall was positive in the last race and she has to be considered from the lead. 10 Urbina Southwind is fast as long as she can save her speed.
