RANK

2 Lozano Di Quattro is very gifted and does not face the toughest opposition of his career. Good number and in this small field he should reach a nice position. 5 Harpy is very strong and will most likely be driven offensively– maybe all the way to the front? 4 Sandokan had no luck during his second stay on French soil, but, like many others, he will probably come back stronger. 1 Macahan is used to tough opposition and often puts in strong efforts. If he manages to hold the lead his chances will increase.

RANK

3 Kant'e is normally far too good for a race like this and the six-year-old has put in several strong efforts at the end, not least the finish last time in a much tougher company. 10 Isaac Wynn competed in tough companies as a 3-year-old. The capacity is high and despite this handicap he should be close to our pick. 7 Mezcal Teorvici is in good shape today and much better than the latest results show. Tough and will get an offensive journey. 12 Stratocruiser is up and down but has good capacity when he is at his best.

RANK

15 Coraline has shown really good form, has a top driver and will compete barefoot for the first time. Early contender despite this starting position. 6 Gasolina Jet took the first career win in the last race and the impression was promising. Could reach the front again and an early choice from there. 9 Klang Shadow is good for this type of race and did well in the last V85 race. 13 Osken returns after a long layoff and makes his debut for a new trainer. Owns good skills.
