4 Kovi Stream started the year 2024 in the best way when she easily disarmed the opponents after a fast finish. She is not a very quick starter but should reach a nice position. If she can then deliver a similar sprint as last time, she won't be easy to resist. 6 Tui Southwind seems to be getting better and better. She is an early contender with the right trip. 1 Eva Kant Gar is in good form and will either find the lead or the position behind the leader. Could fight for victory just like 3 High Five EC .

5 Valeraine made her debut under the saddle in the last run, which ended in the best way. The first start under saddle can sometimes be difficult and often the horses are improved a lot by that race under their belt, which indicates that the mare can do even better than last time. In that case she could be difficult to defeat. 7 Gold Cap BR came with good records under the saddle and showed in his debut on Swedish soil that he stands up well in Swedish competition. If the seven-year-old can raise his level and at the same time gets a good trip, it is possible. 8 Quite A Quality has proven that she manage better opponents than these. Shoes is a disadvantage though.

3 El Vego Khalifa had a strong season last year with just over 300,000 SEK earned. From a nice lane it is not impossible that he finds an early lead. This is not a must though and as long as he is served a decent trip the chance of victory is good. 2 Alvin CG has maintained consistent and strong form for a long time. He is not uneven from the start, but mainly has a strong sprint and should not be counted out in this shape. 8 Vanity Flair is handicapped by this lane, but is an early contender with some racing luck.

1 Thundrfrmdownunder galloped straight from the start last time. Circular start that time, which is not always easy for him. He showed a nice 14.5/2000 after his gallop and seems in good shape. He is fast from the start and reaches a good position. The distance is an advantage and in an open race he is our pick. 3 Careful Dream came back well last time and before that the horse had scored two victories in the lead. 4 Caton has shown great strength and good times over the distance. Despite tough conditions money-wise, he should be counted on his fine form. 8 High Class Photo has scored no less than nine wins in 32 attempts. Capable but not reliable.

4 Azzurro is a very nice trotter with a future ahead of him. He has started promisingly with two wins and as many second places in his seven attempts. Last time he finished strongly from a bad starting lane and showed that the form is good. He can open fast from the start and should be hard to beat from the lead. Banker. 7 Justin DK convinced last time and is improving for every start. Challenging with the right trip. 10 Chaplin is good for this class but often competes against himself. 6 Booster Broline comes from victory and is in good form.

3 Global Action has shown good form lately and put in a good effort a bit behind the winner last time. He likes these conditions and prefers to run in the lead. Good chance to reach that position here and our winner in that case. 7 Charliebrown Effe is the best horse of the race and was clearly improved last time. The form is a question mark anyway, but must be counted on pure capacity. 10 Collier IT won without impressing last time. Good for this company and has great speed. 1 Doctor Gio is possible too from his nice starting lane.
