TINOPASA (8) ran with promise when second at Compiegne earlier this month and should step forward from that run. RUNNIN'BLUE (7) won on debut and looks like a nice prospect.

Her fourth-place finish in a Grade 2 chase in mid-April reads particularly well, and she looks capable of returning to winning ways here. The main danger may come from VOLCANA DU BERLAIS (2), who has already recorded two victories this year. DREAM WEAVER (9) ran with credit when third behind POPULAS (5) in a handicap chase here a fortnight ago, and the pair could once again be closely matched for the minor honours.
